

FEELING THAT TURNING POINT IN Battle Will Not Be Reached Until One of Armies is Outflanked

ARMIES CANNOT GRAB SURE PACE

VON KLÜCK'S PERIL EVIDENTLY NOT SO GREAT AS THOUGHT

So Far German Commander Has Been Able to Check Pressure.

RETIREMENT OF TEUTONS TO SOON BE INEVITABLE

Enlistment in England Unabated and Recruits of High Standard.

London, Sept. 21.—England waited in vain today for confirmation of the report that the bulk of the German army had begun to retire from French soil, and prepared for another period of anxiety and suspense, which must last as long as the great battle of the Aisne, now in its tenth day, remains undecided.

Though British officials say the allies are gaining ground their progress necessarily is small, and the public here is beginning to feel that the turning point of the battle never will be reached until one side or the other has been outflanked. The suggestion that the allies would accomplish this Saturday or Sunday on the German right was not fulfilled, and apparently their efforts are being continued on a comparative scale.

For days the British press referred to "von Klück's peril," but so far the German commander has been able to check what must have been terrific pressure from the British and French left.

Last Stand in France.

Naturally there has been no intimation from German sources in corroboration of the report that the German army is small part of the German army pushed to maintain merely a defensive position in France, while the main body makes a stand on the frontier, but optimists among the allied advance believe it is extremely improbable that Emperor William's troops during the present war will assume again the offensive on French territory.

The content, moreover, that a retirement of the German forces from French soil must shortly become inevitable, unless the offensive is resumed.

British eyes see further encouragement in the backward movement of the army of Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm, which was announced in a shorter communication for the allies.

Hardly less discussed today than the battle itself is the destruction of the Zeppelin cathedral. This edifice has been called the urn of French history, and the last, perhaps, will be a greater shock to historians and worshippers of antiquity than was the destruction of the library in Louvain.

Issued Statement Quickly.

The Germans were quick to issue a formal statement from Berlin saying that the damage to the cathedral was unintentional and incidental to absolutely necessary operations.

Vienna says that the newspapers of Austria kept silent on the operations of the Austrian army in Serbia, but they are appealing daily for more men, doctors and medical supplies to be sent to the front. The Austrian hospital equipment is said to be woefully inadequate, the wounded often lying on the field from 24 to 48 hours, mortality increasing not only the sufferings of the men but also the work of the medical staff.

From Trieste, concerning whose attitude in case of an attack there has been much speculation, came a statement today from the governor, that in case of being attacked he would not evacuate the city.

Trieste, he said, "will resist the Anglo-French fleet. However, before Trieste is bombarded, the Austrian fleet will have been dealt with."

Enlistment Continues Unabated.

Throughout the British Isles enlistment continues unabated, and a noteworthy feature is the high standard of the recruits. Students and young professionals are enlisting in numbers, and it is a long way to Tipperary" now means a five-day chance of being in the line, and the same man as "There'll be a hot time in the old town tonight."

FIREMEN CORRECT ERRONEOUS REPORT REGARDING TOUBLER

In speaking to the Capital this morning, Deputy Chief Anderson of the city fire department stated that he felt a wrong impression had been created about the city by a report in a morning paper, of the meeting of the committee representing the firemen and Commissioner Booth on Saturday morning. The firemen agreed to lay the matter over until the meeting of the council Tuesday night and did not threaten to walk out. They also gave their word to give the city every protection from fire during the trouble between themselves and the city. A representative of the morning paper was not present at the meeting, thus was the wrong report created, said the deputy chief.

FARMERS ARE LIBERAL TOWARD WELFARE FUND

The Edmonton Public Welfare board is losing no time in getting down to business while the weather is favorable and the crops in this section of the country plentiful. The plan now being worked upon is to collect from the farmers in the Edmonton district, a large supply of vegetables and, in some cases, meat, bring it to the city and have it stored for use during the coming months, and with this and in paper was the wrong report created, said the deputy chief.

STATED RUSSIANS HAVE TAKEN OVER 15,000 PRISONERS

Many Quick-firing Guns and Supplies Are Also Captured.

Paris, Sept. 21.—(3:05 p.m.)—In a message from Petrograd the Havas agency reported today that during the past three days the Russians in Galicia have captured 15,000 Austrians, including 50 officers. Many cannons, quick firing guns and supplies also have been taken.

GERMANS TAKE AN OFFENSIVE STATION BERLIN OFFICIALLY

Subscriptions for Huge War Loan Coming Fast, It Is Stated.

Denied Author of "Quo Vadis" Is Held in Jail.

Stated That Roumania Has Decided to Remain Strictly Neutral.

Berlin (by wireless) via way of Sayville, L.I., Sept. 21.—Subscriptions for the German war loan have been coming in very fast. The total subscription to the Imperial bonds already is $2,400,000. The treasury certificates which were offered to the amount of one billion marks have been oversubscribed by 200,000,000 marks. The newspapers express surprise that this result has been reached without foreign subsidies or the necessity of sending the loan to the market. The subscription has been so rapid that many of the sub-tenders have been postponed until later.

The Swedish explorer, Anders Sven Hedin, is a guest of Emperor William at headquarters. He will be allowed to visit the eastern and western fronts in order to give a non-partisan account of the situation.

Advices from Vienna deny the report that Henryk Sienkiewicz, the Polish writer and author of "Quo Vadis" is a prisoner of war of the Austrians. He is in Vienna on a route for Tyrol and is preparing to write a book on his experiences in the war.

The crown council at Bucharest, capital of Roumania, on Saturday decided to continue the strictest neutrality.

MURDER CONVICT TRIES ESCAPE FROM PEN BUT IS HALTED BY BULLET

Jose Lopez, a Mexican, serving a life sentence at the penitentiary for the murder of a man named Fredericson at Tere Juane Cacho last fall, made a dash for liberty on Saturday morning, but was halted by a bullet in the leg. Lopez was working in the yard and, fancying himself unobserved, took a door from one of the outhouses off his hinges and placed it against the wall dropped to the other side and commenced to run, but he had no chance to make a getaway. One of the guards outside perceived him and called to him to halt. Lopez paid no attention to the summons so the guard fired, wounding him in the leg and sending him to the ground. Five minutes from the time Lopez made his break he was back in the cells.

According to the evidence at the murder trial Lopez and Fredericson were engaged in a card game and a few angry words were exchanged. Finally Fredericson rose from his seat and went out. He was followed by the Mexican. A few minutes later a shot was heard and the Swede was found lying on the ground fatally shot, while the Mexican was being held by some of the murdered man's friends.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT SAYS ALLIES HOLDING COMFORTABLE POSITION

Bordeaux, Sept. 21.—The official statement issued this afternoon says: "We are confident that the allies hold a comfortable position in the great battle now progressing."

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT PEOPLE'S FORUM SUNDAY

The organized church, and legislation to the war, was the subject of an address by Joseph Adair at the Sunday meeting of the People's Forum in the city Presbyterian church, and a large attendance enjoyed the remarks of the speaker. Addresses were also given by Joe Macdonald, secretary of the trades and labor council, and Joseph A. Clarke, Edward A. Smith.

An especially interesting program has been arranged for the meeting next Sunday when Hon. A. G. MacKay, M.P., will give an address on "A Citizen and his Duty to the war." Special reference will also be made to the local branch of the Home Defence League.

The hour of meeting is 7:30 not 8 o'clock as many have been under the impression, and next Sunday's meeting will be at 8 o'clock, promises to be one of great interest.

FARMERS IN SOUTH WANT TO SELL SURPLUS STOCK

As has been known for some time, the grain and hay crops in some parts of the south of the province are very good. The farmers in the central and northern districts are this year particularly well off. It was because of this fact and the fear that the southern farmers might have trouble in keeping their stock over the winter, that the Alberta government, has been trying to arrange for the shipping of some of the stock from the south to the north to be fed during the cold months. He found that no less than 100,000 head of cattle could be cared for up here, but now the southern stockmen and farmers state that they would prefer to sell their cattle for what they can get for them and keep over the winter only the stock they need and give the proper care to, so it looks as if the northern farmers and others who have an abundance of stock will not have the market for it in that way that was expected.

Mr. P. R. has reduced the rates on hay, straw, oats and potatoes, consigned from one farmer to another in the south, and this fact will no doubt aid the matter of feed supply in the south to some extent.

SAYS BELGIANS REPULSE WITH HEAVY LOSSES

Belgians, true to allies, refuse all terms for armistice.

London, Sept. 21.—(4:20 p.m.)—In a despatch from Antwerp, the correspondent of the Central News declares that the armistice proposed made some days ago by Germany to Belgium, provided that the civil government in all Belgian towns should be immediately resumed by Belgium and the German occupation of these towns be discontinued on condition that communication with the German in France be not interfered with.

Belgium refused to agree, saying to do so would be disloyal to the allies.

OFFICIAL REPORT SAYS SERBS AGAIN DEFEAT AUSTRIANS

Enemy's Attempts to Cross the Drina Have Failed, It Is Stated.

Medical Stores and Provisions Seized.

Montenegrin Army Said to Be Within Ten Miles of Bosnian Capital.

Nish, via London, Sept. 21.—(10:10 a.m.)—An official communication reviewing the Serbian campaign says: "The enemy's attempts to cross the Drina on the Loznica-Ratkov line have again failed and all Austrian attempts to cross the Save, or the Mitrovica-Sabatz front have been unsuccessful. Nothing of importance is reported from the Save-Drina front."

The general retreat of the Viubograd Bosna, 40 miles southeast of Sarajevo is abandoning all stores. Our troops seized about 44,000 pounds of flour, 20,000 tons of meat, many blankets, a field hospital with 100 wounded, and medical stores and forty railway wagons.

The Montenegrins after carrying fortresses of Fatcha and Gopola in Bosnia, captured Juhuka on September 16 and took Rogatica on the seventh.

"The morale of our troops is excellent, but the Austrians are completely demoralized and are flying precipitantly."

"The Montenegrin army is only about ten miles from the Bosnian capital and has captured a large amount of booty."

POLICE CHARGE BOY OF SIXTEEN WITH VAGRANCY

A sixteen faced lad of 16 appeared before Colonel Bleeker on Monday morning in police court facing a charge of vagrancy. Although he hardly knew what vagrancy meant he admitted that he was up against it, as he had no money and a place to stay.

Captain Pryde of the Salvation Army, Matropole came to the rescue, offering to take care of the lad and if possible find a job for him. The referee in finding work for four men released by the police, several of whom were married with families dependent on them, said the lad would probably have become a victim of charity.

The Matropole has been aided by the city to the extent of £100, but otherwise it is self-supporting, its funds being raised by the army and aided by a small store on the premises, selling second hand clothes for small sums. Of course, when the applicant has no money to get the clothes away, if he absolutely needs them.

Captain Pryde desires assistance, however, in the way of cash, as the donations of discarded clothing or furniture, which he can hand out to the needy, if persons having such articles and willing to contribute them, will phone 424, a rig will call for them, and he will be glad to receive them.

They have massed a powerful battery of artillery of such heavy metal that our boys have not been strong enough to cope with it.

"For this reason and this reason they have been able to withstand our attacks. Happily the French have now brought up their heaviest guns and are about to open a fresh bombardment." The one advantage the enemy possessed he must presently lose.

The correspondent speaks of the strength, "almost inhuman courage and eternal cheerfulness of the British," and concludes: "Victory is not yet, but we await the narrow with great hope and confidence."

MARKET COMPANY EXPECTS TO BRING DOWN LIVING COST

New Produce Exchange Emporium Will Probably Open for October 2.

The Central Public Market company will open its premises on Second street to the public on October 2, and promises to provide a clear and "sweet" where the citizens of Edmonton will be delighted to do their shopping.

Carriers have been working in what was known as the Empire auditorium, transforming it, and expect to complete their work in about five days. When finished there will be above to booths available, most of which have already been rented and in which will be sold all the goods and articles which are desired by the house wife. It is expected by the promoters of the company that, as the competition in selling will be keen, the market will be a large factor in helping to reduce the cost of living in Edmonton.

Inside the building one of the booths will be reserved for ladies. There they will be able to sell home cooking for which there is constantly a good demand. The stall will be under the charge of an expert salesman and the commission charged will be very small.

A large building adjoining the auditorium has been reserved as a stock market, where it is expected the farmers will offer for sale food, either dead or dead, beef and other products, a nominal retail fee being charged for the privilege.

The market is controlled by the owners of the building and they claim they expect a large return from the undertaking.

FRENCH OFFICIAL STATEMENT BEARS OPTIMISTIC NOTE

On Left Wing Advance Made as Far as Heights of Lassigny.

Situation in Lorraine Said to Be Unchanged.

In Woivre District Germans Still Hold Region of Thaincourt.

Paris, Sept. 21.—(4:10 a.m.)—The following official communication was given out in Paris today:

"The French army has advanced on the right bank of the river Oise. We have advanced as far as the heights of Lassigny, east of Noyon. To the east of the Oise and to the north of the river Aisne, the Germans have given evidence of a renewed offensive. In the Woivre district, which have been the violent encounters there had not stop short of bayonet charges. The French army has been everywhere repulsed with considerable losses. In the country around Reims the enemy has made a dash and infantry attack, confined himself to artillery fire directed against our front from long guns."

"Second—On the center, in the Champagne country and on the western slopes of the Argonne river, the enemy has been repulsed. The Germans are fortifying themselves in the vicinity of Thaincourt to the south of Chateau Salins."

War Purely Accidental.

Washington, Sept. 21.—The report of Secretary Daniels to investigate the disabling of the Tuckerton wireless station, which was made today, it is understood the burning out of the generator was purely accidental.

EXHAUSTION RATHER THAN SHOT BRINGS AWAY PEACE

Heaviest Guns Brought up by French and Fresh Bombardment Opens.

London, Sept. 21.—A correspondent of Times sends the following "from behind the British lines," dated September 19:

"The great battle draws to a close. Exhaustion, rather than shot and shells has wrought a terrible peace among the river banks. A peace which my experience and that of the last few days leads me to believe may be the herald of victory. That, at least, is how I read the situation."

"I have seen our troops and the French go into battle these last days, not as worn and weary men, but as conquerors. I have seen them return with conquering spirit, fanned to a fierce fury. Here is typical description from the trenches of the great struggle."

"We are slowly becoming, then, back. We have to do it foot by foot, for they have huge guns and their shell fire is terrible, but we keep peering away. How? Well, we dig ourselves in. We build the bunkers of the great struggle, and then we go on fighting until the moment comes when we can make a small advance. We crawl up again and dig ourselves in, and so on."

"At the end of course it comes to cold steel. We are all right there."

"The scene on the river at night was magnificent, and appalling, beyond measure. The whole valley was swept by a blaze of search light from darkness until dawn. Great beams moved up and down searching the skies and trenches and revealing the dark forms of the troops and the dark forms of the troops along the ridges."

"Here and there a bright flash revealed a volley from some concealed position, and over all, rolled the great river, making the work of the great engineers a veritable task of titanic proportions."

"This was a battle to the last ounce of strength, in which man and horse poured out their whole lives in a few frenzied moments. Day and night the combat raged without intermission, shelling and firing like a hurricane, like a caldron. And into the bell strong men went down. Oh, it was a brave sight to see them go, gallantly and unhesitatingly to their deaths in a few hours broken for life or it may be never to return at all, for the loss was terrible."

"The battle westward by the forest of Aisne has been carried back from the river bank a matter of 10 kilometers (about six miles). But at Soissons the enemy still holds their position. Here in the stone quarry and above the tower."

WHO TRIUMPHS IN THIS WAR? AND WHO IN THE NEXT?

At a conservative estimate the present war will cost a million lives. It may cost more than double that if it stretches out into a number of years and involves other nations. Already the various authorities appear afraid to give even an approximate list of the fatalities, but it is quite safe to say that in France, Austria, Poland and Serbia, the four great theatres of war so far, the fatalities to date have been not less than half a million. Besides the slain, there will be a million or two so badly injured that their productive powers will be greatly curtailed if not completely destroyed. Added to this the cost of the war in wealth burned up in armament, ammunition and the destruction of property, to say nothing of the loss of time of ten million or so of men, will run into the thousands of millions.

All these together constitute liabilities which the nations of the world, most especially the losing nations, will have to assume at the close of the war. Those dead leave behind countless dependents whose maintenance inevitably falls upon the country in one form or another. Those maimed must be kept by the country in some manner. The worn out armament and the buried up ammunition represents that much money for which the countries have already been bonded, and the cities destroyed, fields ravaged and farmsteads razed represent not only the direct loss of money—entailed but the loss to the countries involved of the productiveness of these until they have been replaced and put in order again. Already the war debts of these countries are staggering.

With the exception of Russia, not one of the countries involved is as large as the province of Alberta. Germany, for instance, with her 67,000,000 population, has only 208,000 square miles; Austria-Hungary, with her 51,000,000, has 260,000, but a large part of it is mountainous and not susceptible to development as we understand the term. France, with her 40,000,000, has 206,000 square miles, and little Belgium, the country hardest hit of all so far, maintains her 7,500,000 population on an area of only 11,370 square miles. Serbia, with 3,000,000 population previous to her first war, has 18,645 square miles, but Serbia's area is largely taken up with land not susceptible to cultivation, while, not yet involved but likely to be embroiled at any time, maintains 34,500,000 on 110,000 square miles, an area about the size of that of Alberta lying to the west of the north and south railways systems of the C.P.R. and the Waterways.

With the exceptions of Austria, Serbia and Russia, these nations all have large colonial possessions, but only in the case of Great Britain can any of the colonies be counted upon to accept any part of the cost incurred, and in no case can the colonies of any of the European nations be counted upon to accept any part of the debts which will be incurred by the war. German, French and Italian colonies, for instance, are a constant source of expense even in times of peace, all having squandered millions upon millions in the attempt to mimic Britain in the establishment of colonies. In fact, it may be said that Germany's Togoland was almost the only colonial possession held by any European country which was not dependent for the maintenance of administration upon an annual remittance from the home government; and Togoland is now cut away from Germany. What would happen in the event of the European powers attempting to reverse the process and exact a tax from the colonies has already been pretty clearly demonstrated in Britain's experience in North America and Spain's experience in South America and the Antilles.

When at the finish, Austria, for instance, with the trans-Carpathian country, and quite probably Bohemia, the Tyrol and the Adriatic possession of Bosnia, Croatia, Dalmatia and Coastland cut off, reducing her population by one half and her area by more than one half, is called upon to face, in addition to her present debt of $3,615,000,000, her own cost of the present war and quite probably a tremendous indemnity to Russia, Serbia and Italy besides, not to mention the claims that may be established by France and Britain, what is the outcome for Austria? Or figured in another way, what is the outcome of a country like Austria when, with a total foreign trade of only $1,300,000,000, she is called upon to more than double her debt with half the territory?

Any such illustration applicable to Austria is quite as applicable to Germany in case of indisputable defeat.

Manifestly, there is a limit to which human endurance in the meeting of taxation can go. The outcome must be repudiation, either violently, through revolution, or passively, through sheer inability to pay. The country with a million dead, a million cripples and her wealth burned up to the last available dollar, can scarcely do otherwise than default.

But national debts are obligations owed by nations to individuals. The countries having among their citizens the greatest number of these individuals holding bonds of foreign countries are Great Britain and France. Statistics to show what is the aggregate of the Austrian and German bonds held in Paris and London are naturally sheer guess work, but it is a well-known fact that this has been considered excellent strategy by the Teutons for years and the total must be large. By smashing Austria and Germany, France and Britain hit the pockets of their own men of wealth.

Meantime, there is Russia as an actor in the great tragedy. With 7,771,649 square miles stretching from the Black sea, the Caspian, the Himalayas, Tibet and Mongolia to the Arctic, and from the Baltic to the Pacific, she has the largest solid block of territory held by any one power on the globe. Her land lies principally in the fruitful north temperate zone and her population of 168,000,000 is the most nearly homogeneous of that of any empire of equal or greater number except India and China. Russia has the second largest national debt, $4,500,000,000, but with only a fraction of her territory worked she is the greatest wheat producer in the world, and her timber, mineral and fishing resources have, comparatively, been scarcely touched. Furthermore, it may be safely presumed that the amount of the bonds of Germany and Austria held in St. Petersburg is insignificant. Her recuperative possibilities are manifest.

Figuring it out purely "on form," as the race track men express it, who triumphs in this war? And who wins the next?

THE HOUR

We've shut the gates by Dover Straits,
 And north, where the tides run free,
 Check by jaw, our watchtowers frown,
 Grey bulks in a greyer sea.
 And the prayer that England prays tonight—
 O Lord of our destiny—
 As the foam of our plunging prow, is white,
 We have stood for peace, and we war for right,
 God give us victory.

Now stand, now strung, from the mainmast flung,
 The flag throbs fast in the breeze;
 Strained over the foam, like the hearts
 at home.
 That beat for their sons on the sea,
 For mothers and wives are praying tonight—
 O Lord of our destiny—
 But we've no time, for our lips are tight,
 Our fists are clenched and we're stripped to fight,
 God give us victory.

The west winds blow in the face of the foe—
 Old Drake is beating his drum—
 They drank to "The Day," for "The Hour" has come.
 The day and the hour have come.
 The sea-strewn empire prays tonight—
 O Lord of our destiny—
 Given did, give the sea into Britain's might,
 For the freedom of Thy seas we smite,
 God give us victory.

MAYENCE PROPHECY MADE IN 1854 HAS COME TRUE SO FAR

Predicts Prussian and Austrian Annihilation in War
 Now Going On.

There is in Germany a famous prophecy. It is called "The Prophecy of Mayence," and dates from 1854. It comprises 18 verses of prediction, of which the first nine have been fulfilled in the most remarkable manner.
 Here are the verses:

"1—When the little people of the Oder shall feel themselves strong enough to shake off the yoke of their protector, and when the barley is sprouting from the ears their King William shall march against Austria."

"2—They will have victory upon victory up to the gates of Vienna, but a word from the great emperor of the west shall make the heroes tremble on the field of victory, and the barley shall not be gathered in until he has signed the peace, shaken off his and returned triumphantly to his country."

"3—But at the gathering in of the fourth barley the end of the oats a dreadful sound of war shall call the harvesters to arms. A formidable army, followed by an extraordinary number of engines of war that hell alone could have invented, shall start towards the west."

 to you who have abandoned the rights divine and human, woe to you who you?"

 versary at first, shall soon turn back towards the "Chene-Populus," where shall succeed fire and sword."

 reign of the dark shadow shall not have time to execute all its schemes
 "11—But, the time of mercy approaches. A prince of the nation is in your midst."

"12—It is the man of salvation, the wise, the invincible, he shall count his enterprises by his victories."

"13—He shall drive out the enemy of France, he shall march to victory on victory until the day of divine justice."

"14—That day he shall command seven kinds of soldiers, against three in the youth of the House of Han, West and Baden."

"15—Woe to thee, people of the north, thy seventh generation shall answer for all thy crimes. Woe to thee, people of the east, thou shalt atone for the crimes of affliction and innocent blood. Never shall such an army be seen."

"16—Three days the sun shall rise upwards on the heads of the combatants without seen through the clouds of smoke."

"17—Then the commander shall set the victory; two of his enemies shall be annihilated, the remainder of the three shall fly towards the extreme east."

"18—William, the second of the name, shall be the last king of Prussia.
 He shall have no other successor save a king of Poland, a king of Hanover,
 and a king of Saxony."

 it is completely destroyed."

 Bouvins, near to Paderborn, in Westphalia, shall reunite seven allied peoples (French, Belgians, English, Dutch, Russians, Japanese, and Ser-vians) against three (Germans, Austrians and Hungarians)."

NEW C.P.R. SHIP SALES IN OCTOBER

"Missanabie" Last Word in Construction For Carrying Passengers and Cargo

NO COLLAPSIBLE BOATS

Can Launch Lifeboats And Close Watertight Bulkheads Simultaneously

When the twin-screw steamer "Missanabie" launched last week from the yards of Barclay Curle and Company, Limited, of Whitefish, Ont., on October 7 from Liverpool for Montreal, the Canadian Pacific will have added to its fleet of steamers, one that is the last word in ocean vessels from the standpoint of comfort and convenience for passengers, strength and ability for navigation, and capacity and appliances for cargo. The new vessel is 520 feet long, 64 feet broad and 42 feet deep. It has a gross tonnage of 12,800 tons, a displacement of 10,000 tons and a cargo capacity of 40,000 cubic feet. Below the level of the main deck, the space is devoted to general cargo, three of the lower tweencocks being fitted for the carrying of refrigerated merchandise. From the main deck upwards, through less than six separate decks, the space is devoted to passengers. There is room for 200 cabin passengers in large airy rooms and for 1,200 third-class passengers, all in large rooms. In the crew the ship will therefore be fitted to carry 2,000 or as much as the foundation of a small town.

Decorations Are Georgian Although a "one-cabin" boat every effort has been made to make the appointments second to none, and the dining room, card room, drawing room, lounge, etc., gymnasium and other features of the most modern vessels are furnished and decorated in accordance with the plans of the late Sir John G. Chambers and his architect, Mr. J. H. G. Chambers.

The decoration is of the Georgian period. The staterooms and the dining room are commodious and admirably designed for the work intended for each.

No Collapsible Lifeboats The decks are expected to provide one of the chief features of the vessel. The promenade, the upper and lower decks are being designed so as to provide shelter, amusement, exercise or rest, according to the requirements of the passengers.

The boat deck is entirely set aside for the storage and working of the boats. 42 lifeboats, including a motor lifeboat being carried. The launch arrangements, embodying as they do the latest improvements, are anticipated until disasters of recent years, are complete as human ingenuity can provide. Chief among these is a mechanical contrivance which enables the boat to be launched through the side of the ship. The launch is possible to launch the lifeboats from either side of the ship. The collapsible lifeboats on board, all being rigid, open lifeboats, and simply sufficient for crew and passengers.

Heating and Ventilating There is a new departure as well in the system of providing heat and fresh air for every part of the vessel.

The electric lighting system provides for 1,200 lights, and the power supply operates fans, elevators, harbor equipment, printing, submarine signalling and galley outfit. All watertight bulkhead doors are electrically operated and can be closed simultaneously from the bridge. The vessel is fitted with the well-known cruiser stern, which builders claim gives increased capacity, speed and deck area. It is also fitted with watertight decks and bulkheads, that she is capable of floating in a sea with any three compartments open to the sea.

There are twin sets of quadruple expansion engines, and the propellers are by eight single-ended boilers at a working pressure of 215 pounds, and give a sea speed of 16 knots an hour on service.

The "Missanabie" will arrive in Montreal on October 14 or 15, and will again for Liverpool on October 22.

GERMANS SUFFERING FROM WANT OF FOOD

Bordeaux, Sept. 21.—A number of letters written by German soldiers which have fallen into the hands of the French speak of the great hardships which the invading troops have undergone. All refer to the terrible losses sustained by the Germans.

A German surgeon, writing under date of Sept. 11, says: "I am suffering terrible hunger. I have not eaten a morsel of bread in eight days."

A German soldier writing from the battlefield of the Marne said that he had lived on raw beef, roots and sugar. He declared that the French fire was having a "fruitful effect." Out of 100 of his company only 50 were left. He saw no solution of the problem he said. His company had received no reinforcements.

Other writers said that they had no bread but plenty of wine.

SWITZERLAND TO ASK INDEMNITY AFTER WAR

Berne, Switzerland, (via Paris) Sept. 21.—Although the extreme measure which was adopted during the first week after the war began to be relaxed, Switzerland is still under the pressure of mobilization. This is tax on the financial resources of the country. It is now spending 1,400,000 francs ($280,000) daily on the army. It is now asking the United States for an indemnity at the end of the war, owing to the stoppage of manufactures and industries.

GERMAN PRISONERS' AWFUL EXPERIENCES

Many Regiments Have Lost all Their Officers, it is Stated.

FIGHT ALL DAY, NO FOOD

In Engagements From Five in the Morning Until Eight at Night.

Bordeaux, Sept. 21.—(20 a.m.)—The following information concerning incidents of the fighting and personal experiences, furnished by German prisoners, or obtained from documents seized by French troops. The information was given on Sept. 11 and 16.

A German artillery officer wrote: "Companies of 250 men in the tenth army corps have been reduced to 70 men and there are companies of the guard commanded by volunteers of a year, all the officers having disappeared."

The following is taken from a letter written by a German officer:

"For tactical reasons the guard has been reduced to 100 men and 800 wounded. The first battalion of the first regiment of the guard has not another officer. The French artillery defied so well that we could not discover its site. General Von Shuck and his bloody battle; cold in the evening and calm in the night."

"The following is from a letter written by a lieutenant of the 26th German artillery."

"I fight every day from five in the morning until eight at night without eating or drinking. The artillery fire from the French is frightful. Toward noon our battery was hit and lost three days of rain. We hope for a decisive battle. We hope for a decisive battle. We hope for a decisive battle."

CAPITAL CHARGES TOO GREAT FOR CITY STREET CARS TO SHOW SURPLUS

The figures below show the position of the street railway with regard to its finances. From the first of the year up to the present. In a letter, Commissioner John Chambers says:

"It will be noted that the amount of the deficit per month is being constantly reduced. Had the traffic for the month remained normal throughout the month we had hoped at least to break even. Since exhibition time the traffic has fallen off to the extent of 10,000 passengers per day. Still, with such further reduction in expenses as the operating expenses average from 45 to 50 per cent, we expect to have the monthly returns show no deficit and with a return of business conditions normal, normal throughout the month we had hoped at least to break even. EDMONTON RUGBY TEAMS COMMENCE PRACTICING FOR FOOTBALL SEASON

Esquimos, Varsity and Civic All Out on Saturday for Workout—Esquimos Will Practice Again Today at Five O'Clock Varsity Players Will Lumber up on Campus at 4.30 p.m.

Saturday saw what was really the beginning of the rugby season, when three of the city teams began earnest practice, the Esquimos, Civic and Varsity all lumbering up.

The Esquimos were out on Diamond park in force, 18 men being in uniform besides others who graced the field without their moloking. Deacon White had them in charge, and put them through some strenuous work, after they had loosened up by putting the pigskin around for about an hour.

There was some promising material out, which, with plenty of practice, would develop into a good rugby team. Amongst those were Stearns, a number of last year's champions, Tommy Dykes, Bruinman, Douglas, and McLaren. McLaren is an old McGill man, and was for some time one of the right stalwarts of that college.

Wassman, a member of the heavy-weight class, looks as though he might be able to do something at that college. He has been wrestling for some months, and besides having a fine physique is in the pink of condition. The Esquimos will have another workout today, commencing at five

COAST TEAMS PLAY EXHIBITION GAME FOR RELIEF WORK

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 21.—After weeks of adhering to the Vancouver and New Westminster professional lacrosse teams jumped back into the game on Saturday, playing in aid of the war relief fund. The cupholders proved to be in better condition, and on the heavy field easily outplayed the Vancouver, winning by a score of 5 goals to 3. The teams may play again next week. Griffiths, Jones, Allen and Archie Adamson, of the Vancouver Minto cup line-up in 1911 celebrated their return to the game.

OFFER TO PITCH EVERY THIRD DAY

Realizing that something must be done quickly if the Giants are to overcome the Boston Braves' lead and provide to a fourth consecutive pennant, Christopher Mathewson and Charles M. Towne called upon John J. McGraw and offered to pitch every third day from now until the end of the season. They have been working on an average of every fourth day right along, but both pitchers told the manager they were perfectly willing to shoulder the extra work if he thinks it will help the Giants to climb to the top.

Demaree and Marquard are going to pitch every third day from now until the end of the season.

Whether McGraw will accept this proposition cannot be said now, for he has not made up his mind, but it shows how anxious the players are to get into another world series. The pitchers realize it is up to them to get busy quickly or it will be too late, and the Braves will wander into the autumn mix-up with the Athletics.

RANELAGH POLO PLAYER VICTIM GREAT STRUGGLE

Captain R. N. Grenfell, International Poloist Killed During Battle in France.

London, Sept. 21.—Captain R. N. Grenfell, the well known polo player of the Buckingham Household, attached to the Ninth Lancers, was among the officers killed in action in France. His name appears in the list, under date name Sept. 18, issued by the war office tonight.

The list also contains the names of Captain Lorne Gurney, of the Irish Guards and Captain Lord A. V. Hay, also of the Irish Guards. Col. F. R. P. Boleau, of the general staff, died of his wounds.

The names are given of 20 officers killed 40 wounded, one who died of wounds and one missing. Captain R. N. Grenfell and his brother, Captain Francis Grenfell, both of the Ninth Lancers, were members of the Hurlingham team which was to have played the United States team for the international polo cup in 1910. An accident to Captain Francis Grenfell, however, caused a postponement of the international match. Later, as members of the Ranelagh team, the brothers played that year in the tournament of the Point Judith Polo Club, and it was R. N. Grenfell's dashingly play which won the final of the open championship tournament in which he made seven of the eight goals made by the English team.

This is the first time these places have been free of invaders since the removal of the Belgian capital from Brussels to Antwerp. The street lamps of Antwerp are lighted every evening from 7:30 to 8 o'clock.

OLD COUNTRY FOOTBALL

Saturday's games in the old country league furnished several surprises. Sheffield Wednesday leaders of the first league went down to defeat at the hands of Liverpool, 2 to 1. Only two home teams were defeated in the first division. In the Scottish league Hearts enhanced their position by defeating the Rangers, who are considered dangerous opponents. This win gives Hearts a firmer hold on first place.
